

Crossfields of Arnside and their Boats Conference

Saturday 21st March 2020

Minx and Strumpet	Crossfields Boat Builders	Ziska

Arnside Sailing Club are holding a second Conference on Crossfields in 2020, building on the success of the first one in 2019

Crossfields of Arnside were leading builders of gaff rigged yachts and Morecambe Bay Prawners (also known as Nobbies). They were active from the 1840s to 1940s. There are 27 Crossfield Boats on OGA Boat Register, including Bonita 1888 the oldest boat to take part in the 2013 OGA Round Britain Challenge. In 2018 Arnside Sailing Club brought Severn 1912 to have example of a Crossfields' Boat in the village.

There will be talks during the conference about Empress 1928, which is being restored prior to going out to the Mediterranean and Ziska 1903, which has been shortlisted for the Classic Boat Awards, which are decided by online vote. (Best Restoration for a boat under 40 foot and Gstaad Yacht Club Centenarian of the Year). Ziska featured in November 2019 edition of Gaffers Log. She is currently based in Port Townsend on the West Coast of America. In June 2019 Ziska took part in a Race2Alaska coming 22nd of 35 starters following a two-year restoration by her owner Stanford Siver. The afternoon will focus on the Sir William Priestley 1934, the Morecambe Fishermen's Lifeboat and the different boats that have built from a mould taken from Sir William by Eric Bergqvist in 1979. There will be talks by Paul Jolley (South West OGA) owner of Minx and from Gary Flashman (Solent OGA) about Freda which was built as the prototype for the Freda Class based on the design of the Sir William Priestley

The conference will be chaired by Eric Crossfield, great grandson of William Crossfield, who set up the boatyard on the shore at Arnside in the 1890s.

Tickets £24 including buffet lunch (any surplus will go towards the maintenance of Severn)

Social Activities

Arnside Sailing Club's club house on the Promenade will be open for drinks from 8.30pm on the Friday prior to the conference and there will be a conference supper at 7.30pm on Saturday. (Price £10)
